Fanni's Purple Book (5)

Fannis lila bog (5)

Fanni's Purple Book is the fifth in a series of 10 small books, about the imaginative play of Fanni. Currently nominated for one of the prestigious prizes at the 28. Biennale of Illustrations Bratislava and sold in translation to China Mainland and South Korea.

Inger Tobiasen is one of the best-known Danish illustrators of children's books – with her recognisable style, she catches the sentiments of children beautifully and she has provided artwork for many books, also by other authors.

SYNOPSIS

Fanni's thread is purple. It winds through the house like a maze. Finally, the thread ends in Aunt Lilla's knitting basket. Here Fanni also finds a fine knitted sweater. It fits her perfectly. She wins the thread in a huge spanner and thinks that now Aunt Lilla can knit her a hat and a scarf.

REVIEWS

"A reader reported that her 5-year-old child suffers from high-functioning autism. This is the first time he has read a book in its entirety and read 5 titles at a time. Our editor felt sincerely happy. Thank you very much for your creativity and work. Somewhere in the world, there is a child who is happy because of reading your series. It is a very remarkable achievement." – (Note to the author from her Chinese publisher: Beijing Yutian Hanfeng Book Co., Ltd)
