John Kenn
Mortensen

The Warlock in the Woods (Land of the Midnight Sun I)

Trolldanden i træet (Midnatssolens Rige I)

The first book in The Realm of the Midnight Sun trilogy, written - and richly illustrated - by John Kenn Mortensen. Enter a curious world full of quaint characters, reminiscent of classics like Alice in Wonderland, The Wizard of Oz, Lord of the Rings and Narnia.

John Kenn Mortensen, the Danish cult illustrator, celebrated by fans around the world for his incredibly detailed illustrations of monsters.

SYNOPSIS

Alice and her friends have never seen it before. The strange tower that suddenly sticks out of the lake. Through the tower a fantastic and scary world appears. The Realm of the Midnight Sun. Here the sun never rises properly and it is full of speaking animals, incomparable monsters and an ugly bunch of feinds called The Great Spectacle.

The story is a classic fairy tale and then at the same time so much more. It is full of details, wild, unpredictable and full of spookiness. It is the first part of a trilogy of which the second books is already published and the third book will be published in September 2025.

REVIEWS

"John Kenn Mortensen is like no one else able to bring out the monsters who you had hoped to forget. Those who feed on evil thoughts and live in the cupboard or underneath the bed, but who are perhaps in reality right next to you all the time, without you being able to see them. And he does not only bring them out in the memory but also gives them a face and a body. On top of that, he ends the first book with a major cliffhanger. Then the path is paved for a scorching hot sequel which children from approx. 8 years, who do not let themselves be easily scared, will love." – (Library Review)

SYNOPSIS

Billy sets out to search for leads to his mum. But it is difficult, because his mum is not who he thought she was.

Who was Billy's - so seemingly normal - mum and where has she gone?

Luckily, Billy gets help from an unknown angle.

Sophia Soud has won the Skriverprisen 2024 for LEAD 1.

REVIEWS

"Linguistically and plotwise superior." – (Politiken - 5 Hearts)

"It is an incredibly exciting story about Billy, who embarks on a hectic hunt to find his vanished mother. Billy's quiet everyday life with the mother is drastically changed and there turns out to be many things that Billy's mum has omitted to tell her son. The attention of the reader is caught from the prologue's first page when a stranger rings the doorbell at Billy's flat when he is home alone. The book is well-written and the language is current. The cover is very appealing and the blurb is exciting without revealing too much. The story has an open ending and I can almost not wait to read the sequel!" – (Lektørdtalelse - Library review)

Who can she convince to be part of her band?

REVIEWS

"This is a wonderful new series about four friends who make the band Pop Sisters. The series is (...) about girlhood, identity, expectations, friends and unity. There are many issues in the four books that readers will recognise from their own lives." – (Lektørdtalelse (Library review))

The Story of a Boy who is (maybe) called Torben

Historien om en dreng der (måske) hedder Torben

A moving, atmospheric illustrated novel aimed at 6-10 year-olds.

Sabine Lemire (b. 1974) is a graduate of the Danish Design School and The Duperré School of Applied Arts in Paris. Short-listed for Deutscher Jugendbuch Preis 2019 with MIRA.

Rasmus Meisler is an award-winning and widely celebrated illustrator, based in Copenhagen.

SYNOPSIS

A boy lives alone in a little house. He is mostly on his own. He can no longer remember what his name is - it been too long since anyone said his name. It's possible that there was once a lady living there, who called him Sausage, but he is not quite sure.

One day he gets a letter from the school: the boy has to attend and learn maths and sit still in class. Luckily, he meets the girl, Kirsten, who cannot comprehend why he doesn't have a name.

Maybe they can find a suitable name for him together?

REVIEWS

"It is a really lovely and moving book with lots of food for thought and conversion sparks - on e.g. loneliness, gender identity and lack of responsible adults. The few adults in the book are rather caricatured and awful. The teacher is tired of children and bullies Kirsten because she cannot spell; the boy lives alone without any adults around; and it is indicated that Kirsten is being hit at home. Even if the book includes several serious topics, it is neither sentimental, nor heavy." – (Lektørdtalelse - Library review)

Søren Jessen

The Fish Girl

Fiskepigen

An IBBY Honour nominee - an absolutely stunning graphic novel on the highly current subject of flooding and climate change - aimed at reading aloud for 10+ or reading alone for 12+.

Søren Jessen is an award-winning Danish author/illustrator of children's books and graphic novels.

SYNOPSIS

In a house on a hilltop, the autistic boy, Frede, and his older sister are home alone. A violent storm has hit their area and all land around them has been washed away by flooding, leaving their hilltop house on a small island in the sea. They are without electricity and light, waiting for their parents to find them.

Fred's sister does everything in her power to create an illusion that everything is normal – to protect her fragile younger brother. She plays with dinosaurs, makes a cozy camp underneath the dining table, bakes pancakes on the gas fire and tells a fairy tale of a girl who lives in the sea.

At the same time, she is worried and scared. Where are their parents? Will the water rise further? And how does she make the old generator in the outhouse work, so that she can create light and signal to the helicopter above that they are alive and waiting?

The book provides a beautiful and moving point of departure for a dialogue on climate change and on the importance of caring for each other when the going gets tough. There is a strong sense of hope and community in the story and the stunning illustrations provide a complete extra layer of meaning for this pearl of a story.
